Aboard Cunard Line's Queen Victoria
February 28 - March 18, 2011

19 Days - 50 Meals

Join us on the journey of a lifetime!

February 28: Depart Kansas City- Enjoy dinner at the Westin Crown Center before boarding Amtrak's Southwest Chief Train for a 10:55PM departure. Amtrak's Southwest Chief runs daily between Chicago and Los Angeles, through the vast expanse of the fabled American West. Accommodations are in First Class Roomettes. Room upgrades are available on a limited basis.

March 1: Colorado & New Mexico- Wake up this morning in Colorado where you'll be mesmerized by this region's beauty and allure. The Southwest Chief runs through curving canyon passages only a few feet wider than the train itself. See spectacular landscapes and pristine vistas not visible from interstate highways. As part of the Trails & Rails program, National Park service guides are onboard the Southwest Chief between La Junta, CO and Albuquerque for the purpose of fostering appreciation of America's natural and cultural heritage.

March 2: Los Angeles- Arrive this morning in the City of Angels. Enjoy a tour that includes Santa Monica Pier, Hollywood & Vine, Beverly Hills and more. This evening stay at the fabled Biltmore Hotel. The premier choice for celebrities, presidents and dignitaries for over 85 years, the Millennium Biltmore Hotel offers historic grandeur and modern luxury in the heart of downtown Los Angeles.

March 3: Depart Los Angeles - This morning you are free to explore more of Los Angeles before boarding the Queen Victoria this afternoon for an evening sailing.

March 6: Cabo San Lucas, Mexico - Stunning scenery beckons you to the tip of the Baja Peninsula. La Playa del Amor is a romantic sun-kissed spot lapped by clear water. And take a boat to El Arco, the natural rock formations jutting from the sea – sunset makes it look simply wonderful.

March 7: Puerto Vallarta, Mexico- Hollywood discovered this little fishing village back in the 1960s, and since then the luxury resorts and bougainvillea-covered villas have flourished in the delightful seaside climate. Yet hints of past tranquility remain: cobbled courtyards where the locals hold their markets, and superb sport-fishing just offshore.

March 8: Zihuatanejo, Mexico - Zihuatanejo sits side by side with Ixtapa, between them fulfilling contrasting visions of blissful beach life on the Mexican Riviera. Ixtapa is a modern, bustling resort, where windsurfers skim over the clear waters; Zihuatanejo is its sleepy sister, whose rickety stalls are piled high with mouthwatering fruit and fisherman heave ashore colorful boats loaded with their fresh catch.

March 9: At Sea

March 10: Puerto Quetzal, Guatemala- Puerto Quetzal is a gateway city to exploring some fascinating ancient Mayan ruins including the ancient city of Tikal. The ruins that still stand today are among the best-preserved in the world.

March 11: At Sea

March 12: Puerto Amador - Puerto Amador, situated at the Pacific entrance to the Panama Canal is a manmade peninsula extending out into the Pacific Ocean. This one-mile causeway connects four small islands. There are shops and restaurants on a large marina that provides a panoramic view of Panama City's impressive skyline.

March 13: Panama Canal- Where else can you take a dip in the Pacific and Caribbean at the same time? Right here at the gateway to the Panama Canal.

March 14: At Sea

March 15: Willemstad, Curacao - Enjoy your visit to the capital of this former Dutch colony, divided in two by St. Anna Bay, the biggest harbor in the Caribbean. In Punda, the oldest part of the city, discover the beautiful 17th- and 18th-century Dutch-style architecture. Or stop by the floating market, where vendors sail by sea from Venezuela each morning to sell their fresh vegetables, fruit and seafood.

March 16: At Sea

March 17: At Sea

March 18: Ft. Lauderdale to Kansas City
